

EVERYBUNNY TALKS AAC

Commenting & Sharing Thoughts

Visual Communication Pack 35 | 12 printable cards

How to use these cards

- Print at Actual Size or Fit to Page. Cardstock is optional.
- Cut along the dotted borders. Laminate or add hook-and-loop dots if helpful.
- Begin with a few useful cards, model their meaning, and keep them easy to reach.
- Honor communication whenever safely possible and use the cards alongside speech, signs, or a communication device as appropriate.

User license and important information

These supportive visual materials are not medical advice, diagnosis, therapy, emergency communication, or a replacement for qualified professional services.

Copyright © 2026 Pink Bunny Co. For personal, household, or single-classroom use. Do not resell, redistribute, publicly post, or upload the digital files to shared drives. Original Pink Bunny Co. visual communication materials; not affiliated with or endorsed by PECS or Pyramid Educational Consultants.

Share thoughts, not just requests

The first six cards are sentence starters. Finish a thought by pointing, gesturing, adding another card or photo, or using a communication device. Each illustration is one example, not a fixed answer.

I See	Share something noticed with your eyes.
I Hear	Share a sound you notice.
I Think	Share a thought or opinion.
I Wonder	Show curiosity or introduce a question.
I Notice	Point out a detail that caught your attention.
I Remember	Share something from the past, if you want to.
That Is Funny	Say something seems amusing to you.
That Is Interesting	Say something catches your curiosity.
I Agree	Say you share another person's view.
I Disagree	Say you have a different view.
I Have an Idea	Introduce a suggestion or new thought.
What Do You Think?	Invite someone else to share their opinion.

Every opinion belongs

Try I see + a real object, I hear + a sound, or I think + your own message. Complete comments can stand alone. Examples may use words not included in this pack. Accept short messages, gestures, and device use.

Model cards in everyday conversations, then allow time. There is no correct opinion to give. Respect disagreement, silence, and the choice not to share a memory. Do not require eye contact, speech, or a finished sentence.

Keep existing communication tools available. These cards are optional supports, not a complete AAC system or PECS training. Communication should be voluntary and reflect the person's own thoughts.

Commenting & Sharing Thoughts - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

I SEE

I HEAR

I THINK

I WONDER

Commenting & Sharing Thoughts - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

I NOTICE

I REMEMBER

THAT IS FUNNY

THAT IS INTERESTING

Commenting & Sharing Thoughts - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

I AGREE

I DISAGREE

I HAVE AN IDEA

WHAT DO
YOU THINK?