

EVERYBUNNY TALKS AAC

Position & Direction

Visual Communication Pack 37 | 10 printable cards

How to use these cards

- Print at Actual Size or Fit to Page. Cardstock is optional.
- Cut along the dotted borders. Laminate or add hook-and-loop dots if helpful.
- Begin with a few useful cards, model their meaning, and keep them easy to reach.
- Honor communication whenever safely possible and use the cards alongside speech, signs, or a communication device as appropriate.

User license and important information

These supportive visual materials are not medical advice, diagnosis, therapy, emergency communication, or a replacement for qualified professional services.

Copyright © 2026 Pink Bunny Co. For personal, household, or single-classroom use. Do not resell, redistribute, publicly post, or upload the digital files to shared drives. Original Pink Bunny Co. visual communication materials; not affiliated with or endorsed by PECS or Pyramid Educational Consultants.

Where is it? Which way?

The green ball shows a position compared with a container, table, or block. Arrows show directions. Use these words to share information, ask for a change, or choose where something goes.

IN	Inside something. The ball is in the container.
OUT	Outside something. The ball is out of the container.
ON	Resting on a surface. The ball is on the table.
UNDER	Below something. The ball is under the table.
IN FRONT	On the near side of the block in this picture.
BEHIND	On the far side of the block, partly hidden from view.
BESIDE	Next to something. The ball is beside the block.
BETWEEN	In the space separating two things.
UP	Toward a higher place. Follow the upward arrow.
DOWN	Toward a lower place. Follow the downward arrow.

Try it together, without a test

Place a familiar object in a container, on a table, or beside a book. Point to the matching card while speaking naturally. Let the person choose a position or direct you. They do not have to move the object themselves.

For front and behind, view the objects from the same side together. Point out the object you are comparing with. A different viewpoint can change what looks in front or behind.

Use a word alone or combine it with other cards, gestures, or a communication device. These words are not limited to balls and blocks. Respect refusals and personal space; do not make someone follow a direction to earn help.

Optional communication supports, not a complete AAC system or PECS training.

Position & Direction - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

IN

OUT

ON

UNDER

Position & Direction - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

IN FRONT

BEHIND

BESIDE

BETWEEN

Position & Direction - Cut-Apart Cards

Print at 100% | Cut along the dashed guides | Laminate if helpful

Two direction cards on this sheet: Up and Down.

Use them to share where to look or how something should move. Keep all activities comfortable, voluntary, and safe.